

FOR OLD AGE

To the old, as to babies, the even balance of health is more important than anything else in the world. The possible health, in age, is not high and strong; it is only even.

There is no end, but death, to the trouble that comes of its loss.

It ought to be watched like a baby's.

Their future is short; but oh how it turns on comfort! on whether the wrinkles are wrinkles of pain or of long serene enjoyment!

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil—for very old and very young in different ways—is the food to secure this even condition of health.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SOCIETY

Sometimes they are kind to Blanche Bates; sometimes they are not. The San Francisco News-Letter has the following bits of prose and poetry relative to that Honolulu favorite:

"The reappearance of Blanche Bates, which will occur on Monday night at the Columbia Theater, in a dramatization of Ouida's 'Under Two Flags,' is an event of importance to the public at large, and of personal interest to Miss Bates' numerous friends in San Francisco. Her success is a matter of record, and the production of 'Under Two Flags' has been one of the theatrical sensations of the East. The elaborate, and involves the assistance of fifty people to manage it, besides 120 who take part in the action of the piece.

"Blanche Bates is here—can we forget that face to baffle Gibson? Perhaps she'll show us Cigarette; Perhaps she'll try at Ibsen.

But Blanche divine, whatever you do, Don't try that New York twaddle; For faith, we have no wish to view Your pose as stocking model.

We'll give your talents praise galore, We'll give your art its innings, But we've small admiration for Your gas-pipe underplinnings."

Miss May Damon gave a very jolly picnic and lunch at Moanalua on the Fourth. Her guests, who rode down and after a morning spent in the pretty valley below the Damon place, enjoyed the polo of the afternoon, and a moonlight trip home in the evening, were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mr. Isaac Dillingham, Miss Juliette King, Mr. Walter Dillingham and Mr. Kimball.

The artistic memorial window, representing the Apostle Paul, and dedicated to the Rev. J. F. Lane, is now in place in St. Andrew's Cathedral. The Rev. Lane, who died some two years ago, was master of Lohian College and an enthusiastic member of the Honolulu Cricket Club, which organization presented the cathedral with the memorial window.

Mrs. Burns and daughter, from Yokohama, passing through on her way to San Jose to visit her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney, were entertained while here by Dr. and Mrs. J. S. McGrew.

Mr. Mason F. Prosser is in town from Kauai. Mr. Prosser expects to go East in the near future for a visit in New York with his parents.

Captain Hughes, whose wife is the guest of Paymaster and Mrs. Phillips, at Waikiki, came on the cruiser Philadelphia during the week.

Mrs. J. Monsarrat and son have gone to the Coast. Mrs. Monsarrat was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Coney, previous to her departure.

Miss Maude Gillet, who has been the guest of Mr. Edward Damon, at Moanalua for the past week, returned to town on Friday.

Paymaster Dyer spent a few days in Honolulu, en route to the Coast on a leave of absence from the Asiatic Squadron.

Mr. H. M. Whitney left on the Zealandia for San Francisco and the East, to be gone some six weeks or two months.

Mr. Maddox and Mr. Wright spent the Fourth at Alea, the country place of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. McGrew.

This evening a wedding anniversary celebration will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Q. H. Berrey.

Mr. John Cassidy was an outgoing passenger on Tuesday's Zealandia. He will be absent about a year.

The Misses Angus and Miss E. Grace were passengers to Hawaii by Tuesday's Island boat.

Miss Caroline C. Hassforth left by the Kinau for Hilo to spend her summer vacation.

Mr. F. T. Merry was among the excursionists early in the week to the other Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan have returned from their Waiakua wedding journey.

A splendid game of polo was played at the Moanalua grounds on the Fourth.

Mr. W. W. Cross left on the Aorangi for a visit to his old home in Winnipeg.

Mr. H. G. Danforth was among the Claudine's passengers on Tuesday last.

Tuesday's Kinau took away Mr. L. A. Thurston for a brief visit on Hawaii.

Mr. Edgar Halstead was an outgoing passenger on the Kinau.

Judge and Mrs. Wilder went to Hilo for the Fourth.

J. O. Carter Jr. is enjoying his vacation in Hilo.

Prince David is in Hilo to attend the races.

A most delightful dinner was given at the Moana during the week by Mr. Robert Shingle, in honor of his mother, who is now visiting her son. Mr. Shingle's former home was in Cheyenne, Wyo., and the invitations extended included only those of his friends who also hail from that city. There is quite a large Cheyenne contingency here in Honolulu, a was proven by the merry tableful who partook of Mr. Shingle's hospitality. His guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Goetz, Mr. and Mrs. Bon, Mr. Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Towse, the Misses Pratt and Mr. Bryan K. Baird.

The delightful home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitney, on King street, was the center of a charming festivity on Tuesday evening, when Miss Whitney entertained thirty of her young friends at supper a la Hawaiian. This was served in a large lanai erected at the back of the house, which was beautifully decorated with ferns, flowers and large flags. Afterwards dancing was enjoyed until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

The engagement of Miss Ida Belle Palmer, well known in Honolulu, and who became a great favorite here on her numerous visits, and Mr. George Wheaton, has been announced in San Francisco society columns.

The pleasant little informal entertainment of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Brown, given on July 2d, was much enjoyed by the guests, Miss M. Ida Zeigler, Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Clara Zeigler, Mr. Newton, Mr. Lynn, and Mr. De Lartigue.

Late letters from the Anton Cropps tell of their safe arrival at Singapore, which they say reminds them much of Honolulu in its trees and plants.

Mrs. Dowdell, wife of the popular commander of the Zealandia, is the guest of Mrs. Fred Whitney, King street.

HUMORS OF BOOK HUNTING.

We have said that second-hand book-sellers have a very fair working knowledge of their trade, and this is perfectly true; but here and there may still be found one or two whose knowledge is less than even the knowledge of the veriest tyro among collectors. At this we imagine we can see the veriest tyro pricking up his ears and making him ready for a bargain; but let him not be precipitate, for not even among the men who know nothing about books can he hope to turn his own comparative erudition to account. The people who sell books in ignorance of their real value are mostly those who keep old curiosity shops in country towns. We regret to have to record it, but, from bitter personal experience, we know that it is almost impossible to cheat them in these matters; nay, more, that it is well nigh hopeless to attempt to buy a book from them at all, even, we may say, when one is prepared to buy it for a fair price. The following dialogue may perhaps help to explain what we mean:

Confirmed Bibliomaniac—May I have a look round among the books?
Provincial Shopkeeper—Certainly sir. Might you be in want of anything in particular?

Confirmed Bibliomaniac—Oh, no, thanks. I only thought I would like to look at them.
He does so, and roams about for some minutes among many volumes of theological works of the "Paley's Evidences" type, a task that would crush any but a maniac really confirmed. At last, at the very bottom of the heap (books are always in heaps in old curiosity shops) he comes across a book of a different sort; for the sake of our illustration, let us say a copy of the 1772 edition, in quarto, of the miscellaneous poems of that pleasant Latin versifier, Vincent Bourne. Such a book might easily fetch as much as ten shillings in the metropolises; in the provinces, therefore, it would be reasonable to offer three shillings and sixpence. As it happens, the bibliomaniac does not possess it. He therefore makes a violent effort to appear unconcerned with the usual result—that he looks a very demon of covetousness.

"How much do you want for this?" he says, holding it up.

"It is a very old book," remarks the owner.
"Yes," says the maniac, "but how much is it?"
"It is very old, indeed. I should say it was quite one of the first books printed; wouldn't you, sir?"
"Well, it is not quite so old as all that."

"I had a gentleman in here the other day looking at it, and he said it was a very old book. Perhaps you know him, sir?"

"No, I haven't the pleasure. What did he say about it?"
"He said it was the oldest book he had ever seen, and he wished he could afford to buy it."

"Did he, indeed?"
"Yes; he said you never see books like that nowadays."

"That is quite true. What else did he say?"

HONOLULU ALIVE.

When you know a good thing tell it. It will not lessen its goodness. But will do good to others. If you've been cured, tell it. There's more misery just like it. Waiting to find out how.

There are lots of lame backs in Honolulu.

It's a busy place and people must work.

There's kidney trouble to a large extent.

Ever notice how many people over 40 complain?

Seven out of ten say colds affect their kidneys.

The kidneys are the causes, not the colds. Keep them in shape by all means.

You can do it easily and pleasantly. No nauseating disturbances.

No effect except on the kidneys. But that effect is quick and permanent.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills do perfect work.

Honolulu is full of their praises.

Mr. H. G. Crabbe, of Nuuanu street, this city, formerly a merchant and clerk, is now a collector. He writes:

"My age is 69 years and I am blessed with children and grandchildren. For about two years I have been troubled with a severe pain in the back. A short time ago I purchased some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills at Hollister & Co.'s Drug Store, and found great relief through using them. I keep some of the pills by me as a safeguard against attacks of my old complaint, which I need not fear so long as I have a remedy like Doan's Backache Kidney Pills to combat them."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50. Mailed by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

"He said that in London they would give a lot for a book like that."

"Yes?"

"These old Greek books are very hard to come by now."

"Are they?"

"Yes; you see it is on account of the printing."

"Why?"

"Well, Mr. Jones said there had been no printing done worth speaking of since the days of the Greeks and Romans."

"Mr. Jones said that?"

"Yes, and he said I was very lucky to have such a book."

"To come to the point, how much do you want for it?"

"Well, sir, being such an old book and having been printed in the times of the Greeks, and Mr. Jones having spoken so highly of it, I couldn't in fairness to myself let it go for less than £10."

Our illustration is fictitious, but we can assure the hopeful beginner that it is in no way exaggerated. We remember once coming across two books in a little shop in a country town, one a Bible and the other a prayer book. What their exact dates were we do not know, as they had both lost their title pages and were very incomplete in other particulars, but neither of them can have been earlier than 1700. Above each was a large card announcing that they were to be had for the moderate prices of £15 and £10, respectively. This happened not so very long ago, and we imagine they are in that little shop still. Of course, it gives an air of prosperity to be able to charge for its goods exactly 250 times what they are worth, but it is not cheering for the collector.—New York Tribune.
